

earnings events

It's no secret that Issuer Direct is the leader in Investor Relations, providing services for the micro to mega caps.

But did you KNOW?

Issuer Direct can broadcast your next financial meeting too?

For more than a decade, we've managed tens of thousands of earnings calls and webcasted events for companies of all sizes around the globe. Our superior specialists can customize an earnings call solution to meet your needs.

Time is money. Anywhere, anytime with our automated earnings call scheduling platform, you can schedule your next earnings event or investor announcement. Once connected to an event, we can help you engage investors by providing easy access to your press releases and stock quote. Our live and archived events are desktop-, mobile- and tablet-ready.

The things you can do:

- Easily broadcast company announcements and financial results
- Influence key audiences, investors and analysts globally
- Access our robust Investor Network with videos, webcasts, presentations and Annual Reports of more than 30,000 companies
- Give shareholders options to pre-register for events, invite others through social media, and access live and archived events, press releases and stock quotes

With our direct, user-friendly technology, our platform is ideal for keeping your current and potential investors up to date with frequent and worthwhile interaction.

Additional Features:

- Event outreach with the Classify Outreach subscription
- Event promotion with Accesswire national press releases
- Archived audio, podcast options
- Same-day transcription
- Content Delivery Network (CDN) in the cloud
- Slide (User Controlled, Presenter Controlled) options
- 24 x 7 support
- Archived webcasts indicate stock performance since the date of your live event

"I have very demanding requirements when it comes to our investor and analyst communications. I work very closely with the Issuer Direct team to ensure that our conference calls and webcasts are as effective as possible, and I am quite satisfied with our relationship."

- Steve Schultz, GW Pharmaceuticals

Issue Direct's webcast platform is uniquely customized for hosting quarterly earnings events and corporate announcements.

How It Works: Self-schedule your next earnings call and receive instantaneous feedback including a webcast URL and teleconference dial-in numbers to include in your press release.

Getting Started

- Select if you require both a webcast and teleconference.
- Provide the appropriate information to schedule your earnings call or investor event.
- Provide the appropriate information to schedule your earnings call or investor event.

Additional services to customize your event

- Transcription, call management and pre-record prepared remarks

Submit!

- A webcast URL and teleconference dial-in numbers are generated instantly.

Act on Actionable Analytics

- When the webcast is over, our data helps you analyze your investor audience and plan for an effective follow-up.

Optimized for public company earnings calls

- Easy access to the three most recent press releases enhance user experience.
- The webcast archive features a stock quote and delta to measure stock performance relative to the date of the live event.
- Participants can share the event with interested colleagues through social media functionality.