Creating and maintaining company hotlines can be cumbersome. Issuer Direct takes the headache out of tracking and delivering the right message at the right time. We can capture all of the vital information and customize a program that fits your needs.

A sophisticated whistleblower service is a vital part of any corporate governance system. The markets demand responsibility and commitment to your employees, vendors, suppliers and shareholders. Having a visible whistleblower system shows your constituents that your company prioritizes ethics by providing a forum to communicate concerns should they arise. In short, you'll have a platform to maintain investor trust, integrity and confidence.

Issuer Direct is one of the first compliance companies to provide fully integrated whistleblower services and web-based report capture systems for the public markets. Today, we're one of the largest hotline providers in the world and a recognized leader in compliance disclosure.
